

Stitch - Create a textured book cover

Janet Edmonds

Create exciting surfaces with colour and texture that will inspire stitching. The more designs suggest stitching the easier it is to make the transition into textile. Make textures using a variety of papers with mixed media methods. We will explore painting, scraping, sponging, crumpling, resists, adding tissue paper, painted bondaweb, taking out colour and adding it back in with oil crayons and inks.

Please bring:

A sketchbook that you wish to cover

A design that you want to work

A piece of coloured fabric for the background and muslin for backing

Scraps of fabric for applique and textures

Variety of threads from fine to thick in your chosen colour scheme .

Embroidery frame and usual sewing kit
